Bio:

Keri Ball serves as the Regional Public Health Nurse for the South Shore 5 Public Health Alliance, bringing clinical expertise, a strong commitment to community wellness, and a collaborative spirit to her role supporting Hanover, Marshfield, Norwell, Pembroke, and Rockland.

In her regional role, Keri works across all five towns to enhance public health nursing services. She leads case management for infectious diseases, supports vaccination efforts and health screenings, and collaborates with local health departments on outreach, education, and offering community-specific care. Her work ensures that residents have access to high-quality, timely, and coordinated public health services, regardless of which town they call home.

Whether coordinating clinics, conducting community outreach, or supporting data collection and reporting efforts, Keri's expertise and presence across the regions help ensure our programs are responsive, evidence-based, and community-informed. Her regional role allows each town to benefit from shared resources while building a more connected and resilient infrastructure for health and wellness.
